Dear Jim:

Your letter of October 12, 1993 is much appreciated.

You have served with rare distinction as Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and have by your leadership, vigor, vision, decency, hard work and enterprise left a record which will be hard for any Chairman to equal in the full period of his, or her, appointment.

As you know, I am a great admirer of yours and we have been friends for a long time. As you also know, I view your work at the Commission over time, and especially during the period in which you have served as Chairman, to be one of great distinction. You deserve great credit for the way in which you have conducted yourself, the way the Commission worked under your leadership, and your substantive accomplishments during those periods.

I wish to express to you my congratulations, pride and pleasure at the job you have done and good wishes for continued success in public service.

Deborah joins me in expressing our very best to you and Mary.

Sincerely yours,

PERSONAL

Honorable James H. Quello
Acting Chairman
Federal Communications Commission
1919 M Street, Room 802
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Jim:

Just an note to congratulate you on the New York Times article on your tenure as Chairman. It was a great article but also an accurate one: you have done an absolutely superb job from the standpoint of instilling vision, leadership, cohesion, and very effective action at the Commission. I can't think of a more productive period in the FCC's history (save, of course, for the so-called "Golden Era" during the mid-1970's!)

Seriously, all of your many friends and admirers are very proud of the tremendous job that you have done. But, fortunately, you're not through just yet. So keep up the good work!

Best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Richard E. Wiley
