

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

November 1, 1993

The Honorable Jim Quello
Chair
Federal Communications Commission
Washington, D.C. 20554

Dear Jim:

As your term as Acting Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission comes to an end, I want to take this opportunity to thank you and praise you for a job well done.

Though your position was a temporary one, you showed the skill, wisdom, and tenacity that has distinguished you throughout your long and illustrious career. I salute you for your commitment to the ideals of hard work and excellence, and I look forward to your continuing exemplary service to the FCC and to our country.

Best wishes for every future success.

Sincerely,

Bill Clinton
