John A. Blackburn
Dean of Admission
University of Virginia
P.O. Box 9017
Charlottesville, VA 22906

Dear Dean Blackburn,

Elizabeth Jennifer Albrigo, an exceptionally well-motivated and talented young lady, is on the waiting list for entry into the University of Virginia. I am writing to support her application. In fact, it is difficult for me to believe that anyone with her exceptional credentials with superior grades and IQ would not be accorded the highest priority for admittance.

In addition, she has an excellent, highly educated family background. Her father is a distinguished orthopedic surgeon in Alexandria. I have known the family for over twenty years.

The president of Michigan State University (my wife and I are both graduates), has indicated that the University plans to name a communications chair in my name when I retire from the FCC. If Elizabeth Jennifer Albrigo were applying for entrance into MSU, I would vigorously support her admittance to both the president and Registrar of my university.

I believe your office has the necessary information for admittance. However, if further information is necessary, I'll be glad to promptly respond to your request. As you may know, she has been accepted for Georgetown University, but still prefers University of Virginia.

She is the type of highly intelligent, well-motivated student who would reflect credit on the University, her family and friends.

Sincerely,

James H. Quello
