

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
Washington, D.C. 20554

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER
JAMES H. QUELLO

November 10, 1986

Thomas Rogers
Senior Counsel
Subcommittee on Telecommunications,
Consumer Protection, and Finance
B331 Rayburn HOB
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Tom,

NBC is acquiring a damn good man as Vice President for policy planning and business development. My office, particularly, will miss our interchange of ideas and your wise insight.

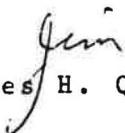

As you know, Tom, it is unlikely that individual Commissioners or the Commission as a whole will always agree with all members of the Congressional subcommittee. Congressmen represent widely disparate constituencies, many with different or conflicting approaches to telecommunications problems. However, I am fully aware we are an arm of Congress . . . and when the entire telecommunications subcommittee expresses its will and intent, we should take heed, at least, I think I did.

Even on the few times we disagreed on a major item, you were always fair and exceptionally well informed. Also, I appreciated the fact we could rely on what you said without any concern about double talk . . . and we (my office) tried to respond in kind.

After you are settled in your new job, I hereby pledge to take you to lunch on your first trip to Washington. Please call or write.

Needless to say, very best wishes for continued achievement in your new responsibilities.

Kindest regards,

James H. Quello
