Dear Dan,

We were delighted to learn of your selection as News Director/Chief of Command Information in Livorno, Italy.

Your excellent performance of your duties here at the FCC and your dedication as well as your "people" skills were universally appreciated. Certainly, you will be missed by your co-workers and your many friends here; but, we are very pleased that you are moving on to a position which will better utilize your skills, talents and administrative capabilities. You have my highest recommendation for government employment.

So, hearty congratulations to you and congratulations also, to the Team Commander for selecting such a dedicated, well-qualified person.

As you know, you are always welcome in my office. When you get settled in your new position, we'd like to hear from you.

My best wishes for continued achievement in the exciting years ahead.
