

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
Washington, D.C.

March 26, 1987

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER
JAMES H. QUELLO

The Most Reverend James A. Hickey
Archbishop of Washington
P.O. Box 29260
Washington, DC 20017

Your Excellency,

It was with great pleasure that I heard that the Washington Archdiocese is about to inaugurate the Catholic Capital Network (CCN) serving the greater Washington Area. It certainly seems to be a very exciting and indeed ambitious project. Television is one of the most powerful means in our society to disseminate ideas and values. Hopefully, CCN will provide programs of genuine wholesome entertainment and positive moral values that will challenge and enrich all viewers.

Religious broadcasting plays an important role in American society. So I am very happy that the Catholic Church with its great tradition and positive values has entered the powerful arena of television. You have my very best wishes for future success.

Sincerely,

James H. Quello
James H. Quello

476