

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
Washington, D.C.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER
JAMES H. QUELLO

February 27, 1989

The Honorable John Sununu
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC 20050

Dear Mr. Sununu,

This is to register my enthusiastic support for Miss Jean Loach for the position of Under Secretary of Travel and Tourism in the Department of Commerce.

I believe it is fortunate that Jean, a most effective President Bush campaigner in Florida, possesses unsurpassed qualifications for promoting travel and tourism and is available for this challenging government position.

My wife and I have known Jean for over 30 years. She was universally respected for years as a TV program hostess with the ABC affiliate in Detroit and later as owner of her own successful public relations firm in Washington and in Miami, Florida. She worked with the distinguished Florida representative, Alberto Gutman, in the last presidential campaign effectively promoting Hispanic and senior citizen voters for President Bush.

I'll soon be starting my fifteenth year on the FCC. Although I hold a democratic seat, I have been appointed only by republican presidents -- first by President Nixon through longtime Michigan friend, President Jerry Ford, and twice by President Reagan.

I'm an active tennis playing 74 year old (lost to President Bush 5 times out of 6 in the annual CBS doubles tennis tournament) whose term doesn't expire until June 30, 1991. I'm not seeking reappointment and want nothing but honest, effective government in a strong America -- the qualities so ably embodied in President Bush.

In her own way, Miss Loach represents similar qualities. She has character, loyal Republican and strong American values and she is a distinguished civic and business leader.

Her appointment would reward years of loyal service to her Republican party and to her country and would reflect credit on America and the Bush administration which she staunchly supports.

Sincerely,

James H. Quello
