Dear Ward,

Your birthday greetings and expressions of congratulations on my latest awards have a very special meaning for me.

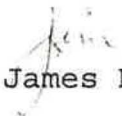

I don't want to embarrass you, Ward, but all these "pre-posthumous" awards (26 at last count) and laudatory letters, would not be a permanent part of my pleasant lifetime memories without your stalwart efforts as my unofficial campaign manager in 1974. I remember you stopped me from throwing in the towel during the hectic pre-confirmation controversy in early 1974. We finally made it -- unanimously. With your encouragement and all out support, we made it through three more confirmations -- each one easier than the time before.

Everyone should be blessed with a solid, through thick or thin, true friend in life like I have had in you.

Again, thank you for your thoughtful expressions and a special thanks for your steadfast lifelong friendship.

Mary joins me in sending our love to you and Dorothy.

Respectfully,

James H. Quello
